PRINCIPLES

AND

Usages of Congregationalism.

A Christian church is a body of Christian believers, formally organized and worshipping together. In the New Testament the word "church" is always used with reference either to the general company of the redeemed, which is the church, or to an association of believers in some particular town or city, which is a church. The word never occurs in the Bible in the sense of an external, centralized organization, embracing and ruling a number of associated congregations. (See Eph. 1:22; 5:23-32. Acts 8:1; 9:31. Gal. 1:22. I. Cor. 1:2; II. Cor. 8:18-19.)

Congregational churches recognize but two permanent and divinely-instituted orders among church officers — pastors and deacons. The office of pastor (or shepherd) has a variety of designations in the New Testament, and is the same as bishop (or overseer) and presbyter (or elder). That these terms are used interchangeably to describe the same office may be seen by comparing Acts 20:17-18; Tit. 1:5-7; I. Pet. 5:1-5. The office and duties of deacons (or servants) are clearly set forth in Acts 6: "Glorious humility of the Christian church, which knows no higher titles than those of 'servant,' 'elderly-man,' 'over-looker'!"

The term "Congregational" is applied to our churches because in them all ecclesiastical power resides in the congregated body of believers or members of the church, and not in the officers of the church, nor in ecclesiastical bodies distinct from, or above, the church. The power belonging to the church is, of course, purely ecclesiastical. The principal powers exercised are: 1st. The power of electing its own officers. 2d. The power of admitting to or excluding from its own membership. 3d. The power of forming its own confession of faith. 4th. The power of regulating the details of its own worship. 5th. The power of exercising discipline on its own members. (See Acts i.: 15, 23-26; vi.: 1, 2, 3, 5; xv.: 2-4, 22, 23, 30; Mat. xviii.: 17; I. Cor. v.: 4, 5; II. Cor. ii.: 16.) In the exercise of these powers a Congregational church is independent of all external authority. It holds its charter of life from the Lord Jesus Christ and is accountable to him alone for the manner in which it fulfills its solemn trust. We read of no ecclesiastical body in the New Testament, exalted above the local church and placed between it and its divine Head, to exercise judicial authority upon it. (See Mark x.: 42-44.) At the same time churches of Christ are to come into fellow- ship with each other, and are to live in close fraternal union, mutually giving and receiving that recognition, encouragement, sympathy, advice and admonition which the law of Christ demands. And all this is to be the result of mutual confidence and affection, not of enforced obedience to superior power. The Congregational church, therefore, that adopts a creed or persists in a course of action radically opposed to the belief and practice of the other churches, must expect to surrender its claim to their confidence and approval.

It may be disfellowshipped; but it cannot even then be coerced. If such a church still believes itself to be acting in obedience to the teachings of God's word it may claim to be a church, though it has lost its standing as a Congregational church.

Gibbon describes the early Christian churches in the cities of the old Roman Empire as being thus "united only by the ties of faith and charity." "Independence and equality," he says, "form the basis of their internal constitution." This was but the extension of the spirit and practice of the churches in New Testament times, and we believe that this establishes a sufficient basis for union among churches now.

The practical working of this theory may be seen in the Congregational churches of New England and in other parts of our land. For harmony of faith in all the essentials of evangelical religion, for purity of discipline, for Christian activity and missionary zeal, while our churches fall far below the standard of the Gospel, they do, nevertheless, compare favorably with bodies of Christians organized under other forms of government. In so far as we lack, therefore, the fault must be in ourselves; it cannot be charged to our polity. The methods by which Congregational churches come into fellowship with each other are various; conspicuous among them, however, is the use of councils, conferences and associations.

An Ecclesiastical Council is an advisory body, called into existence by the "letters-missive" of the church desiring its assistance. Such a church invites other churches to be present at a certain time and place by pastor and delegate to advise on certain matters mentioned in the letter-missive. When the business on hand is transacted and its advice or assistance is given the council adjourns sine die. Councils are most frequently called for advice with regard to the organization and recognition of churches, the ordination and installation of pastors or their dismissal, and the administration of discipline.

Any church, however, that desires the advice of the churches in any other matter may call a council to their aid. When there is division in a church and the two parties are unable to unite in calling a mutual council, either party is at liberty to invite an ex parte council.

Associations are societies of ordained ministers, formed especially for ministerial improvement and usefulness.

The pastor of this church is a member of the "Ontario Association."

Conferences are assemblies of neighboring churches for mutual conference and co-operation. Each church within certain prescribed limits is entitled to representation by pastor and delegates. Every conference has its stated meetings. This church is connected with the "Ontario Conference," which holds its meetings annually in the month of December.

The General Association is a union of all the local conferences and associations in a particular state. When the churches in the state are numerous, as in New England, it is composed of delegates appointed by these local bodies. But when the churches are fewer in number, as in this state, it embraces all the members of the local ministerial associations, together with one delegate from each Congregational church in the state. This body meets annually and hears reports, and suggests advice on all matters connected with the spiritual prosperity of the churches, their mutual relations and their general work of benevolence and evangelization.

The meeting of the General Association of the state of New York with this church in October, 1876, will be remembered in this connection.

The National Council is the latest development of organized Congregationalism. It meets triennially and is composed of delegates from the local bodies. It does on a national scale what the General Associations are doing in their several states.

It will be particularly noticed that all these bodies are simply advisory, and that none of them possess any ecclesiastical authority. Another bond of union between our churches is our great benevolent societies. These are organizations working in different directions toward the evangelization of our country and of the world. They are as follows: "The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions," "The American Home Missionary Society," "The American Missionary Association" (where the work is among the foreign races in this country, African, Indian and Chinese), "The American Congregational Union" (which assists weak churches in building houses of worship), "The American College and Education Society," "The Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society," "The New West Educational Commission" and "The Ministerial Relief Fund of the Congregational Churches." These are dependent for the prosecution of their work upon the voluntary offerings of Congregational churches.

They are the almoners of our gifts, and by them the churches are accomplishing grand results, which, without them, it would be impossible to attain. Thus the independence of Congregational churches is neither discord nor isolation. On the contrary, they live in close fraternal union; they ask and receive advice and assistance from each other, often admonishing one another as brethren, and the more than three thousand Congregational churches of this land unite voluntarily together in carrying forward a general scheme of missionary operations in which considerably over one million dollars is expended annually. But in all this only fellowship on the basis of equality is recognized. No Congregational church admits any authority superior to itself, save the one Lord and Master Jesus Christ, who has revealed himself in His Holy Word, and who, by His Spirit, is constantly present in the church to sanctify and guide.

Though preferring these principles of organization, on what are known to be scriptural grounds, and grounds of wisdom and expediency, Congregational churches do not fail to recognize with fraternal fellowship all societies of believers, who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity, as Christian churches, and to esteem them very highly for their works' sake. As Congregationalists, we have an open communion; we give letters to our own members to join churches of other evangelical denominations, and receive members on such letters from them; and we seek to co-operate heartily with Christians of whatever name in endeavors to promote the common cause of our divine Redeemer.

DIFFERENCES FROM OTHER DENOMINATIONS.

Congregationalists differ from Presbyterians principally in church government. Presbyterian churches have each a body of lay elders, who, with their pastor, compose the session by whom the government of the church is exercised, members being received or excluded by their vote alone, who also keep the church records and make their report to the presbytery, which approves or condemns. The presbytery has power to control the session and reverse their proceedings. Over the presbytery is the synod, composed of several presbyteries, and above the synod is the general assembly, formed by delegates from all the presbyteries in the land. These delegates are appointed by the presbyteries, and are always ministers or elders. A case of discipline may be carried up successively through all the judications to the general assembly. The people have no voice in the system except when the elders are first elected.

Congregationalists differ from Baptists with regard to baptism and church communion. Baptists hold that immersion alone is baptism; that none but adult believers should be baptized, and that none but immersed professors should be admitted to the Lord's table, while Congregationalists admit the validity of any baptism in which water is applied to the person in the name of the Trinity, and believe that baptism should also be given to the infant children of believers, and welcome to the Lord's table all evangelical Christians.

Congregationalists differ from Methodists chiefly in church government, the latter governing their churches by bishops and conferences, who legislate for the whole body and appoint and remove ministers.

Congregationalists differ from Episcopalians in ceremonies of worship and in church government. The Episcopalians hold to three orders in the ministry, and confide the admission and exclusion of members to the pastor and the diocesan bishop, who is set over the churches and ministers of a particular district, and alone has power to confirm members and ordain ministers. Among Congregationalists every pastor is a bishop, as among the New Testament churches, and all ministers are equal in office.

INTERCOURSE WITH OTHER DENOMINATIONS.

Congregationalism, desiring to be free from any narrow sectarianism, insists upon no denominational peculiarities as the condition of fellowship. This principle is carried out in intercourse with other denominations. At their seasons of communion, Congregational churches invite all church-members, who are in regular standing in any evangelical denomination, and who are honoring their profession by a godly life, to sit down with them at the table of the Lord. If any of their members wish to unite with churches of other evangelical denominations letters are given to such churches; or if any come from such denominations and there is no evidence against their Christian character, they are received as from sister churches.

The principles of the Congregational polity are thus seen to be accordant with the Scriptures, and with the practice of the first and apostolic ages of Christianity.

A commission of twenty-two ministers, appointed under the direction of the National Council of the Congregational churches of the United States, to "prepare a simple and comprehensive exposition of the truths of the glorious gospel of the blessed God for the instruction and edification of the churches," reported December 19, 1883, and as a brief exposition of the creed of Congregational churches, there is here given the STATEMENT OF DOCTRINE.

1. We believe in one God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and of all things, visible and invisible ;

And in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, who is of one substance with the Father, by whom all things were made ;

And in the Holy Spirit, the Lord and Giver of Life, who is sent from the Father and Son, and who, together with the Father and Son, is worshiped and glorified.

2. We believe that the providence of God, by which he executes his eternal purposes in the government of the world, is in and over all events ; yet so that the freedom and responsibility of man are not impaired, and sin is the act of the creature alone.

3. We believe that man was made in the image of God, that he might know, love and obey God, and enjoy him forever ; that our first parents, by disobedience, fell under the righteous condemnation of God ; and that all men are so alienated from God that there is no salvation from the guilt and power of sin, except through God's redeeming grace.

4. We believe that God would have all men return to him ; that to this end he has made himself known, not only through the works of nature, the course of his providence, and the consciences of men, but also through supernatural revelations made especially to a chosen people, and above all, when the fulness of time was come, through Jesus Christ, His Son.

5. We believe that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments are the record of God's revelation of himself in the work of redemption ; that they were written by men under the especial guidance of the Holy Spirit ; that they are able to make wise unto salvation ; and that they constitute the authoritative standard by which religious teaching and human conduct are to be judged.

6. We believe that the love of God to sinful men has found its highest expression in the redemptive work of His Son, who became man, uniting his divine nature with our human nature in one person ; who was tempted like other men, yet without sin ; who, by his humiliation, his holy obedience, his sufferings, his death on the cross and his resurrection, became a perfect Redeemer, whose sacrifice of himself for the sins of the world declares the righteousness of God, and is the sole and sufficient ground of forgiveness and of reconciliation with him.

7. We believe that Jesus Christ, after he had risen from the dead, ascended into heaven, where, as the one mediator between God and man, he carries forward his work of saving men; that he sends the Holy Spirit to convict them of sin, and to lead them to repentance and faith; and that those who, through renewing grace, turn to righteousness and trust in Jesus Christ as their Redeemer, receive for his sake the forgiveness of their sins, and are made the children of God.

8. We believe that those who are thus regenerated and justified, grow in sanctified character through fellowship with Christ, the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, and obedience to the truth; that a holy life is the fruit and evidence of saving faith, and that the believer's hope of continuance in such a life is in the preserving grace of God.

9. We believe that Jesus Christ came to establish among men the kingdom of God, the reign of truth and love, righteousness and peace; that to Jesus Christ, the head of this kingdom, Christians are directly responsible in faith and conduct, and that to him all have immediate access without mediatorial or priestly intervention.

10. We believe that the Church of Christ, invisible and spiritual, comprises all true believers, whose duty it is to associate themselves in churches, for the maintenance of worship, for the promotion of spiritual growth and fellowship, and for the conversion of men; that these churches, under the guidance of the Holy Scriptures and in fellowship with one another, may determine—each for itself—their organization, statements of belief and forms of worship ; may appoint and set apart their own ministers, and should co-operate in the work which Christ has committed to them for the furtherance of the Gospel throughout the world.

11. We believe in the observance of the Lord's Day, as a day of holy rest and worship ; in the ministry of the Word ; and in the two sacraments which Christ has appointed for his church ; baptism, to be administered to believers and their children, as the sign of cleansing from sin, of union to Christ, and of the impartation of the Holy Spirit ; and the Lord's Supper, as a symbol of his atoning death, a seal of its efficacy, and a means whereby he confirms and strengthens the spiritual union and communion of believers with himself.

12. We believe in the ultimate prevalence of the kingdom of Christ over all the earth ; in the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ ; in the resurrection of the dead, and in a final judgment, the issues of which are that the wicked shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal,

HISTORY OF THE
First Free Congregational Church,
OF LOCKPORT, N. Y.

This church was organized on Thursday, June 7th, 1838, in a hall in the Boughton Block.

The record of the proceedings reads as follows: A meeting for the purpose of constituting a "Congregational church" was called in the village of Lockport, June 7th, 1838. After a sermon by the Rev. William Bacon, of Troy, the meeting was organized by the appointment of Rev. H. G. Nott, of Buffalo, as moderator, and Oliver Parsons, as clerk.

Rev. Mr. Sherwood, of Wilson, present and assisting. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Sherwood.

A letter of dismission from the First Presbyterian church, of Lockport, was presented by Marcus Stickney and forty-three others. Alpheus Phelps also presented a letter from the Presbyterian church, of Ogden, Monroe county, whereupon it was resolved that these persons be constituted into a church to be known as "The First Free Congregational Church of Lockport." The first article of the constitution then adopted reads as follows:

ART. 1. This church shall be called the First Free Congregational church of Lockport, and the Society connected therewith known as the "Society of the First Free Congregational Church of Lockport."

The word "free" was used to express the deep convictions which the church held in regard to the evil of slavery; and for the reason that the word condemns every form of sin, it has doubtless caused the members of the church to remember the duty of earnestly opposing other evils which threaten society.

After its formation the church worshiped for a season in what was known as the Boughton block, on Canal street, the north side and a little west of the Big Bridge. From thence they moved into the hall in the Moyer block, now occupied by the "Grand Army of the Republic."

The first meeting-house was dedicated on Thursday, July 23d, 1840, occupying the site of the present building. It was struck by lightning May 22d, 1853, when Luther Crocker was killed and some others injured. The edifice was burned November 2d, 1854, in the great fire which consumed nearly all the buildings occupying the block bounded by Transit, Main, Canal and Niagara streets.

Rev. William Bacon served the church in a ministerial capacity from its organization to August 24th, 1841. Rev. Washington Rosevelt supplied the pulpit from the dismissal of William Bacon to May 1st, 1842. Rev. William F. Curry acted as minister of the church from May 1st, 1842, to August 6th, 1844.

Rev. Edgar Perkins commenced his ministerial labors with the church on the first Sabbath in December, 1844, and was ordained its pastor June 25th, 1845. He was dismissed at his own request June 3d, 1849, and Rev. Edward W. Gilman ordained his successor December 4th, 1849. Edward W. Gilman's connection with the church continued until June 17th, 1856, when it was dissolved by mutual consent. From which time the pulpit was supplied by Rev. J. D. Potter, Rev. F. W. Brauns and others, until the installation of Rev. Joseph L. Bennett, on the 15th of October, 1857. That day was made still more memorable in the history of the church by the dedication of their house of worship, built in the place of the former, which had been consumed by fire. The present structure is of stone, in the Norman style of architecture.

The pastorate of Rev. Joseph L. Bennett continued until the 12th day of January, 1871, when, at his own request, the pastoral relation was dissolved by the aid of a mutual Ecclesiastical Council, to enable him to become pastor of Plymouth Congregational church in the city of Indianapolis.

The pulpit was then supplied by different clergymen, until the 24th day of May, 1871, when Rev. James W.

Cooper was tendered a call to become pastor of the church, which he accepted, and commenced his labors June 10th, 1871, and was installed pastor on the 23d day of June, 1871.

Mr Cooper continued pastor until the 21st day of February, 1878, when, at his own request, that relation was dissolved to enable him to become pastor of the South Congregational church in the city of New Britain, in the state of Connecticut.

After the dismissal of Mr. Cooper the pulpit was supplied by different clergymen until the 13th day of August, 1878, when Rev. Ezra Tinker was engaged as stated supply for one year. He supplied the pulpit until the 7th day of May, 1879, when he resigned to take charge of a new church in the city of New York.

July 10th, 1879, a call to become pastor of the church was extended to Rev. Edward B. Furbish, of Potsdam, N. Y. He accepted the call, commenced his labors with the church on the 20th day of September, 1879, and was installed pastor on the 23d day of October, 1879, which pastoral relation still continues.

Constitution of the Church.

I. NAME.

The name of this church shall be the "FIRST FREE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OF LOCKPORT, N. Y."

II. OBJECT.

The object of this church is to unite true disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ in the observance of the ordinances of the Gospel, in the development of Christian character, and in the work of saving men.

III. GOVERNMENT.

The government of this church is vested in the body of believers who compose it, whose majority vote is final. It is amenable to no other ecclesiastical body. It acknowledges the Lord Jesus Christ as its only Head, and receives the Scriptures as its only infallible guide in matters of faith, order and discipline.

This church, while it will control its own affairs according to its own understanding of God's Word, will yet recognize the obligation and the privilege of the communion of churches, by seeking and extending that fellowship and sympathy, advice and co-operation which the law of Christ demands.

IV. ORDINANCES.

The Sabbath services of this church shall ordinarily be as follows: Public worship and the preaching of the Gospel at 10½ A. M. and at 7 or 7½ P. M. Sabbath-school at noon. Prayer-meeting at 6 or 6½ P. M. The regular weekly meeting for conference and prayer shall be held on Wednesday evenings. Extra services as occasion requires.

The Feast of the Lord's Supper will be observed in this church ordinarily on the first Sabbath in January, March, May, July, September and November. The preparatory service will be held on the Friday evening preceding each communion Sabbath. To this communion feast the church invites all who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity and are living a life of faith in him.

Special services for the baptism of children may be held at least twice in each year on Sabbath afternoons. Adults will be baptized on communion Sabbaths upon the confession of their faith in Christ.

V. MEMBERSHIP.

Persons are received as members of this church either on the confession of their Christian faith or by letter from other churches. Applicants for admission will first meet the advisory committee, and, on their recommendation, their names shall be publicly propounded to the church. At the next following "preparatory service" the church may receive them by a major vote of the members present. Those who bring letters shall then become members by uniting in covenant with this church. All others shall publicly assent to the declaration of faith and the covenant, and if they have not already received the ordinance shall be baptized.

Members of this church desiring letters of dismission and recommendation to other churches, may have their request granted by the major vote of the members present at any regular meeting, and the letter shall be issued by the clerk.

Separation can be affected as follows :

1. By death.
2. By dismission to another church.

3. By withdrawal of fellowship on the part of the church. In case of breach of covenant engagements, after reasonable but ineffectual endeavors on the part of the advisory committee for the reformation of the delinquent member, fellowship may be withdrawn with the consent of the delinquent member without a trial. After the absence of a member for three years, and a neglect or refusal to answer our communications, or replying to them in a manner unsatisfactory to the church, fellowship may be withdrawn without the consent of the absent member.

In other cases after trial and conviction of the offending member, on a written charge or charges preferred against him. After the absence of a member for three years, his residence being unknown, he shall be marked on the church register "gone," and shall not be reported among the membership of the church. But whenever such member shall reappear, at his own request he may, by vote of the church, have his name again placed on the church register.

VI. OFFICERS.

The officers of this church shall be a pastor, six deacons, a clerk and a treasurer, all of whom shall be members of the church. These officers, together with the superintendent of the Sabbath-school and the president of the Young People's Association, shall form an advisory committee.

VII. PASTOR.

The pastor of this church shall be an ordained minister of the Gospel and a member of this church. He shall be elected by a major vote of all the members present at the meeting at which such vote shall be taken, and when so elected and ordained or installed, shall hold his office until regularly dismissed according to the usage of Congregational churches.

It shall be his duty: 1st. To preach the Gospel and administer the ordinances of the church. 2d. To watch over the church as a faithful shepherd and care for its spiritual prosperity, devoting himself also to the spiritual interests of the Sabbath-school and the whole congregation, ministering to families in affliction, and seeking by every means the edification of believers and the conversion of the impenitent. 3d. To prudently and faithfully aid in enforcing the discipline which is prescribed by the Gospel. 4th. To preside at all meetings of the church.

VIII. DEACONS.

At each annual meeting of this church there shall be chosen by ballot two deacons, who shall hold their office three years. Their duties shall be: 1st. To provide the elements for the Lord's Table and assist in the distribution of the same. 2d. To seek out the poor of the church, and, as far as practicable, secure relief for them. 3d. To assist the pastor in labors for the spiritual welfare of the church and in the proper and prudent enforcement of discipline.

IX. CLERK.

The clerk shall be chosen by ballot at each annual meeting, and shall hold his office one year, or until his successor be elected. He shall keep a record of the proceedings of all business meetings of the church, a register of the church members, with the date of their reception and removal, and a record of all baptisms, and shall report the statistics of the church at each annual meeting.

X. TREASURER.

The treasurer shall be chosen by ballot at each annual meeting, and shall hold his office one year, or until his successor be elected. He shall receive and disburse the benevolences of the church according to their direction, and the Church Incidental fund according to the direction of the advisory committee, and shall report at each annual meeting.

XI. ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

The advisory committee shall meet regularly once every month. Special meetings may be called by the pastor or by two deacons. Their duties shall be: 1st. To examine and recommend persons who may wish to unite with this church. 2d. To inquire into and present to the church cases of discipline. 3d. To recommend to the church objects for benevolent contribution. 4th. To advise with the pastor, and have a special oversight of the interests of the church, and to do whatever business may be referred to them by the church.

XII. BUSINESS MEETINGS.

The annual business meeting of this church shall be held on the first Wednesday in January, the church year to include the twelve months beginning January 1st. At this meeting reports shall be submitted by the deacons, the clerk, the treasurer and the superintendent of the Sabbath-school; two deacons, a clerk and a treasurer shall be elected by ballot; the benevolences of the church for the ensuing year shall be arranged; the register of membership shall be revised, and such other business transacted as may be deemed necessary.

Ordinary business, such as the receiving and dismissing of members, may be transacted at any of the regularly appointed church services. Special business meetings may be called by the pastor, or by two deacons, or by any five members, notice thereof being given at a regular church service.

The pastor shall regularly act as moderator at all church meetings. In his absence a moderator shall be chosen by a major vote.

XIII. RIGHTS OF MEMBERS.

Every member of this church in good standing is entitled to a vote on all questions and in all matters brought before the church, and the decision of the majority shall in all cases govern.

If any member has private cause of complaint against another, he shall seek immediately to have it removed in a Christian manner, according to the rule prescribed by our Lord Jesus Christ in Matthew xviii. 15-18. Complaints intended for the action of the church shall first be presented to the advisory committee, who shall, upon sufficient cause, present the same to the church.

Immoral conduct, renunciation of the articles of faith or a violation of covenant engagements, are, in the view of this church, public offenses deserving censure and discipline, and it is the duty of the advisory committee to inquire into such cases, and if their own efforts to effect a reformation be unavailing, to present them to the church for its action.

When complaints are brought before the church, the accused member shall be seasonably furnished by the clerk with a copy of the charges, in all their specifications, and be entitled to a full hearing. No member can be deprived of church privileges except by regular process.

In cases of discipline, instead of a trial of the offender before the body of the church, the church may, in its discretion, refer the trial of the charges to the advisory committee or other committee to be chosen by the church, with all the power and authority which the church possesses to hear and try the same; and when the same shall have been heard and tried, the said committee shall report the facts, with their opinion on them, to the church, which opinion shall be final and conclusive unless the church shall allow a re-examination of the case upon the facts as so found by said committee; and in the final decision of the case the church may admonish or exclude the offending member from its fellowship, or both, as the motion of the committee may require, and fellowship may be withdrawn.

XIV. BENEVOLENCE.

The offering of gifts for missionary and charitable purposes shall be made a part of the worship of this church at each Sabbath morning service. The church, at its annual meeting, shall prepare a schedule of benevolences for the ensuing year, in which shall be designated the causes, with the amounts of percentages to be given to each ; and all money contributed during the year, and not otherwise designated by the donors, shall be disbursed by the treasurer according to this schedule.

XV. SABBATH-SCHOOL.

The officers of the Sabbath school connected with this church shall be a superintendent and an assistant superintendent, a secretary, a treasurer and librarians. The superintendent and assistant superintendent shall be elected annually, by ballot, by the school, and shall be members of this church in good standing. The other officers shall be appointed by them.

While the church thus places the government of the Sabbath-school in its own hands, it does not surrender the general oversight of its affairs, but retains the right to act directly in its management whenever such a course is thought proper.

The superintendent of the school shall present to the church at each annual meeting a report showing the number of classes and members, the attendance, the benevolent contributions, the current expenses and the general condition and prospects of the school, and this report shall be placed on file by the clerk of the church.

XVI. INTEMPERANCE.

In view of the fact that intemperance is one of the greatest social evils of the day, threatening the moral and religious life of our community, it is the opinion of this church that the use of or the traffic in intoxicating drinks as a beverage is inconsistent with the spirit and requirements of the Christian religion, and that it is the duty of every Christian to do all in his power to rescue the tempted and save the fallen, and in every way to oppose the advance of this enormous sin.

XVII. AMENDMENTS.

Amendments to this constitution or changes in the form for the reception of members shall be made only by a three-fourths vote of all the members present at a meeting regularly called for that purpose.

FORM FOR THE

Reception of Members to the Church.

[The names of the accepted candidates for admission to the church having been announced, the pastor shall invite them to come forward and stand near the communion table. He will then proceed as follows:]

Hear the gracious words of our Lord:

“Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.”

“Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly in heart, and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light.”

Dearly Beloved: You have come forward to confess your faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and to pay your vows unto the Lord now in the presence of his people. With the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

You stand here at Christ's bidding; and you may venture confidently to make your covenant with him, and to confess his name before men, if you trust in his grace, with the sincere desire to be his alone.

Lift up your hearts then with us to the Lord, while we pray that our God may count you worthy of this calling and may fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodness and the work of faith with power. Let us pray.

(Prayer shall here be offered by the pastor.)

CONFESSION OF FAITH.

With the whole Church of Christ in earth and heaven, we confess our faith in God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, the Only Living and True God: in Jesus Christ, the Incarnate Word, who is exalted to be our Redeemer and King: and in the Holy Comforter, who is present in the church, to regenerate and sanctify the soul.

With the whole church, we confess the common sinfulness and ruin of our race; and we acknowledge that it is only through the work accomplished by the life and expiatory death of Christ that believers in him are justified before God, receive the remission of sins, and through the presence and grace of the Holy Comforter, are delivered from the power of sin, and perfected in holiness.

We believe, also, in the organized and visible church; in the ministry of the Word; in the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper; in the resurrection of the dead and in the final judgment, the issues of which are eternal life and everlasting death.

We receive these truths on the testimony of God, given through prophets and apostles, and in the life, the miracles, the death, and the resurrection of His Son, our divine Redeemer — a testimony preserved for the church in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, which were composed by holy men, as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

Do you accept this as the confession of your faith?
(To this question the candidate shall respond audibly, "I do.")

COVENANT WITH THE LORD.

And now humbling yourself before the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, you do confess the sin of your unregenerate life, and penitently renouncing the same you do enter freely and cordially into the everlasting covenant of grace?

You solemnly give yourselves up to God to be wholly his; to be governed by his laws; to be guided by his spirit; to be disposed of by his providence; to be saved by his grace? Before God, and in the presence of these witnesses, you avow yourselves the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ; and you do confess your purpose, according to the grace given unto you, to obey the truth through the spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, and to let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven?

BAPTISM.

[In regard to some of you] we recognize with thankfulness in this your public confession of Christ, the first of that dedication to God which was made in your early years. The sign of consecration to the Christian life has once been placed upon you and need not be repeated.

And those of you who were not thus baptized we welcome to this ordinance. [Or, we now welcome you to the ordinance of baptism.] With humility and joy receive the holy rite, a visible sign of the abounding grace of God in the remission of your sins, and of your consecration henceforth to be followers of God as dear children.

(FORMULA FOR BAPTISM.)—"A. B., I baptize thee into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

(Persons uniting by letter will here be called upon to rise in their places and join with the others in giving assent to the following:)

COVENANT WITH THE CHURCH.

The members of this particular church have covenanted together to walk with each other in charity and Christian affection, and to do all in their power to seek its peace, edification and purity. They have promised to attend regularly here upon the public worship of God, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper and the appointed meetings of the church for conference and prayer, and to contribute of their means for the relief of the poor and needy of their brethren and for the maintenance of public worship.

Do you accept and assume these same engagements for yourselves until your connection with us shall be orderly dissolved ?

(The candidates giving their assent to this, the members of this church will rise.)

We then, as a church, do cordially receive you into our fellowship and communion. We welcome you in the name of Christ to a part with us in the blessings and promises of his covenant, and to a share in the duties, privileges and glories of his church. We promise to walk with you in all helpfulness and brotherly love, and to offer our prayers to the great Head of the church, that he would enable you to fulfill this solemn covenant, and finally to present you, faultless, before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy.

(The pastor shall then say to all the candidates and to the church who remain standing :)

And now, beloved, remember that ye all were without Christ, being alien from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. But now, in Christ Jesus, ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens of the saints and of the household of God, and are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone.

Wherefore, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost, keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life. Amen.

Baptism of Children.

Children may be presented for baptism by Christian parents at any communion season, or upon the third Sabbath in May or the third Sabbath in October, at 2½ o'clock in the afternoon; or when occasion requires baptism will be administered at any time in the home.

[During the reading of these or other Scriptures, or the singing of an appropriate chant or hymn, the parents will bring their children forward for baptism:]

“Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.”

“Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean.”

“So shall he sprinkle many nations.”

“Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God; and he took them up in his arms and blessed them.”

“For the promise is unto you and your children.”

“For this child I prayed, and the Lord hath given me my petition which I asked of him. Therefore, also, I have lent him to the Lord; as long as he liveth he shall be lent to the Lord.”

“He will command his children, and his household after him; and they shall keep the way of the Lord to do justice and judgment.”

Dearlly Beloved: Beliving that the covenant which God made with Abraham for himself and his posterity has not been annulled by the law, but has been confirmed by Jesus Christ, the Messenger of the Covenant to all his believing people, and recognizing in the seal of baptism divinely appointed the spiritual truth that our Saviour doth effectually work in the hearts of believers and their children, you now present this child to the Lord, acknowledging that you have given him unto the Lord ; and that you do solemnly promise to instruct him in the principles of the Gospel ; to maintain before him a life of prayer and godliness, and to endeavor, in all Christian fidelity, to bring him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord ; thus by the divine blessing fitting him for the communion and fellowship of saints in the church, on earth and in heaven.

The following are some of the reasons given in the Scriptures for infant baptism :

1st. The covenant which God made with Abraham contained the blessings of the Gospel, and the Gospel contains all the blessings of the covenant. Gal. 3 : 8 : “ And the Scriptures foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the Gospel unto Abraham.” Rom. 15 : 8 : “ Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God to confirm the promises made unto the fathers.” Gal. 3 : 9 : “ So they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.” Gen. 17 : 7 : “ And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee, in their generations, for an everlasting covenant ; to be God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee." Acts 2 : 39 : "For the promise is unto you and to your children." Gal. 3 : 14 : "That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith." The law does not do away with the promise contained in circumcision. Gal. 3 : 17 : "And this I say, that the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul."

2d. The Christian parent holds the same relation to his child which Abraham held to Isaac. Rom. 4 : 11 : "And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe." Gal. 4 : 28 : "Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise."

3d. Parents, under the Gospel as expressed in the covenant with Abraham, received from and dedicated to God, their infant children in faith of their acceptance with God. Gen. 18 : 19 ; Judges 13 : 12 ; 1. Samuel 1 : 11, 27, 28.

4th. The Apostles and early Christians believed in the consecration of infant children to God. Acts 21 : 20, 21.

5th. The Scriptures teach that circumcision and baptism have the same meaning. Rom. 4 : 11 : "Circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith." Rom. 2 :

29: "Circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter." Deut. 30:6: "And the Lord thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live." Col. 2:11, 12: "In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ: Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead."

6th. Four-sevenths of the baptisms mentioned by the writers of the New Testament were household baptisms. Though many were baptized, the Apostles specify but seven: The Ethiopian eunuch, Simon Magus, Saul of Tarsus, Cornelius, Lydia, the jailor of Philippi, and Crispus. In four of the cases mentioned the families were baptized. In the cases of Saul and the Ethiopian there were no families. We do not know that Simon Magus had a family. In all the cases where mention is made of persons baptized, where we know that they had households, it is stated that they were baptized with their families. Acts 16:15: "She was baptized and her household;" 33d verse, "Was baptized, he and all his, straightway." I. Cor. 1:16: Paul says, "And I baptized also the household of Stephanus."

7th. The Scriptures declare that the Christian faith of one of the parents is sufficient to authorize the seal of the covenant. I. Cor. 7 : 14 : "For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband : else were your children unclean ; but now are they holy."

8th. Our Lord confirmed the promise of the covenant that the blessings of the Gospel were unto believers and their children. Luke 18 : 15 ; Mark 10 : 13, 14, 16 : "And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them:" "and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God." "And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them."

The nature of his blessing is explained by his words, "for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

We, the subscribers, desirous of stimulating the piety of the young people of our church to more earnest and consecrated effort in the service of our Redeemer, and to promote a more social element among all of the young people of our congregation, do hereby agree to labor together for this end, and do adopt for our guide the following

C O N S T I T U T I O N.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. The name of this association shall be the "Young People's Association of the First Free Congregational Church of Lockport."

SEC. 2. The object of this society shall be the development of Christian character and activities in its members, and the improvement of the spiritual, intellectual and social condition of our young people, by the ways and means hereinafter designated.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION. 1. The members shall consist of two classes, associate and active.

SEC. 2. Associate members. Any person of good, moral character may become an associate member of this society by signing the constitution, and will have the privilege of the society, but may be excused from taking part in the prayer-meeting. It is hoped and expected that all associate members will in time become active members, and this society will work and pray for this end.

SEC. 3. Active members shall consist of all who sincerely desire to accomplish the results above specified. They shall become members by signing their names as active members to the constitution, and thereby agreeing to live up to the requirements of the same.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the associate and active members of this association to promote fraternal feeling and social intercourse among its members, to visit them in sickness, to surround them with religious influences, to interest them in the meetings of the society, and to induce them to take part in its efforts for doing good. Especial attention shall also be given to searching out young people who come among us as strangers, and to assist them in forming suitable acquaintances.

SEC. 2. Prayer-meeting. It is expected that all active members of this society will be present at every meeting unless detained by some absolute necessity, and that each one will take part, however slight, in every meeting. Once each month an experience meeting shall be held, at which roll shall be called, and the response of each active member present by rising and speaking concerning their spiritual life for the past month shall be considered a renewed expression of allegiance to Christ. It is expected if any one is obliged to be absent from the experience meeting, they will send reasons for such absence by some one who attends. If any active member is absent and fails to send excuse, the lookout committee is expected to take names of such, and in a kindly spirit ascertain the reason of such absence. If any active member of this society is absent and unexcused, or present and fails to speak for three consecutive experience meetings, such an one ceases to be an active member of this society, and their names shall be placed with the associate members.

ARTICLE IV.

2. The said election shall be conducted as follows: The minister, or in his absence an elder or deacon, or if no such officers are present then any other person being a member or stated hearer in such church shall publicly notify the congregation of the time when and the place where the said election shall be held, at least fifteen days before the election, such notification being given on two successive Sabbaths preceding the day of election. At the election two elders or church wardens, or if there be no such officers then two members of the society, to be nominated by a majority, shall preside, receive the votes of electors, be judges of the qualifications of electors, and the officers to return the names of those chosen trustees by a plurality of votes ; and the said returning officers shall immediately thereafter certify under their hands and seals the names of the persons elected trustees, in which certificate the title by which such trustees and their successors shall forever thereafter be known shall be particularly described, which certificate being proved or acknowledged shall be recorded ; and such trustees and their successors shall thereupon be a body corporate by the name or title expressed in such certificate.

3. Certificates of incorporation may be acknowledged before any officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds.

4. Any religious society organized under the laws of this state may receive by bequest or devise real or personal estate whose net annual income shall not exceed $12,000 ; provided, if such bequests are from any person who, having a husband, wife, child or parent, gives to benevolent objects more than half of his estate, the entire benevolent bequests are valid to the extent only of one-half the estate.

SETTLEMENT AND DISMISSION OF PASTORS.

As to qualifications, investiture of office and spiritual duties of pastors, the civil law has no concern — churches are sole judges. In the settlement, pecuniary support and dismissal of a pastor the law requires, in every incorporated society, that each member of the congregation (being a legal voter) has an equal voice. Individuals may be church members, but if contributing nothing to the support of the society they are not voters in the corporation ; while individuals, even excluded from the church for moral delinquencies, so long as they statedly attend its public services and contribute to the maintenance of the society are corporate legal voters.

TRUSTEES' ELECTION AND TENURE OF OFFICE.

1. Trustees are to be elected for three years. Immediately after their first election, in any church or society, they shall be divided by lot (as near as may be in equal numbers) into three classes. The seats of the first class shall be vacated at the end of the first year, those of the second class at the end of the second year, and the third class at the expiration of the third year. At least one month before the close of any official term, the trustees shall notify, in writing, the minister, or in case of his death or absence the deacons shall notify the congregation of such fact, specifying the names of the trustees whose terms will expire, when a new election to fill such vacancies which election shall be held, at least six days before such vacancies occur, as hereinbefore provided. All elections, after the first, shall be held and conducted by the same persons and in the same manner as the first, and the result thereof certified by them, and such certificate shall entitle the persons elected to act as trustees.

2. It is the duty of the officers of the society to comply strictly with the requirements of the statute as to the formalities of election. Irregularities in the notice do not, however, necessarily vitiate the result. If due and regular notice is given of a meeting of the society, those present, according to the notice, constitute a quorum, although they may not be a majority of the whole body.

3. No persons are entitled to vote for trustees (after the first election in any church or society) except such as have been stated attendants on divine worship in the church at least one year next preceding, and have contributed to the support of said church or congregation according to the usages and customs thereof. Women of full age, as well as men, are legal voters in the election of trustees. The society clerk is also required to keep a register of the names of all such persons as desire to become stated hearers of said church or society.

4. To entitle a person to vote at any election held by a religious corporation : 1. He must have been for a year a regular attendant in his own person upon divine worship in the society. 2. He must have contributed substantial and material support, either in money or property, or in service such as is usually paid for, and which he rendered under an agreement that it was to be received in lieu of a pecuniary contribution. Attendance of members of one's family is not such attendance as will satisfy the statute; nor is taking part in the exercises of the society a sufficient contribution to its support.

5. The qualification prescribed by the statute of incorporation for the election of trustees of the society cannot be abridged or extended by any act of the trustees or of the incorporators. Every person qualified under the statute has an incontestable right to vote at the election for trustees.

6. If a religious society fails to choose any of the three classes of trustees as provided by statute, such corporation shall not be thereby dissolved, but the trustees already chosen shall continue to hold office until others are elected in their stead; and when such neglect or omission shall happen the trustees of said society shall immediately thereafter give notice, in writing, to the minister, or in case of his death or absence to the deacons, who shall notify the congregation of such omission and appoint the time and place for the election of new trustees, the same order being observed as hereinbefore provided.

7. Whenever a trustee ceases to be a member of such church congregation or society by removal or otherwise, or ceases to steadily attend and support its services, he shall at the same time and for such cause cease to act as trustee, and his place shall be declared vacant by an official notice of the board to the society, and a new election ordered.

8. And when trustees manifest a disposition incompatible with their duties as trustees by acts hostile to the church, they must be considered as having seceded, and, in effect, abdicated their offices, and an injunction will be granted restraining their action as trustees.

POWERS AND DUTIES AS TRUSTEES.

1. The great and paramount duty of trustees of religious corporations is to see that the temporalities committed to their charge are fairly and fully devoted to the purposes the founders had in view. All authority conferred upon them is necessarily subordinate to this end, and all exercise of it beyond the legitimate attainment of this end is usurpation.

2. A religious corporation consists not of the trustees, but of every member of the corporation entitled to vote. Although called the trustees, they do not hold the property individually in trust. It belongs to the society. The trustees, however, are trustees in the strictest sense of responsibility for the property committed to their care, and cannot deal with it for their own benefit.

3. Trustees of a religious corporation can only bind the corporate body by their action at a meeting of the board. Separate action of the trustees, though a majority in number, creates no corporate liability.

4. Trustees of every congregation or society and their successors shall have and use a common seal, and may renew and alter the same at pleasure.

5. The trustees shall administer the temporalities and hold and apply the property and revenues for the benefit of the corporation, according to the discipline, rules and usages of the denomination to which the church members of the corporation belong. And it shall not be lawful to divert such estate, property or revenue to any purposes except the support and maintenance of a church or religious or benevolent institution or object connected with the church or denomination to which such corporation belongs.

Questions for Self-Examination.

1. Do I more carefully observe my engagements with my Saviour in secret prayer than any other appointments? Is it a delight to be alone with him?

2. Do I keep in mind my covenant with my Lord and his with me, in order that I may be faithful to my vows, and as becomes those who are resolved to keep the promises made?

3. Do I study the Bible? Do I understand and prize, above all price, its glorious doctrines? Do its precepts regulate my intercourse with men, and my communion with God?

4. How do I spend the Sabbath? Is it to me a day holy to the Lord and honorable? How much of its time do I waste in indolence? How much to dress? How much with God? How much to my soul?

5. What proportion of my worldly property do I sanctify to the Lord? In what do I deny myself for the purpose of doing good?

6. Do I, in dependence on the Holy Spirit, govern my temper, subdue my passions, and quell a spirit of complaining of those around me, and of fault-finding with my brethren? Am I more willing to pray for and speak to one in error than to mention his sin to a third person?

7. Am I interested in maintaining the services of God's house—in the Sabbath-school, the weekly meetings, the monthly concert? Do I sustain them by my presence, my influence and my heavenly-mindedness?

8. Is my zeal periodical, or constant? Am I as willing to serve my Saviour when few serve him, as when many serve him? Is there one to whom I am faithful, and for whose conversion I feel intense anxiety?

9. Do I live as though I was bought with blood, and had given myself to Jesus Christ? Is it my prayer, in sickness or health, joy or sorrow, life or death, Thy will, O God, be done?
